Why It Matters

A coherent visual identity strengthens credibility and storytelling. We help our contributors and partners appear at their best: online, in print, and across media channels.

How it Works

Book your slot for the specified date and city using the link below. Once registered, you will receive a confirmation along with all further details. On the day of the shoot, a discreet studio will be set up at a central location in the city. Before we begin, we will review your look together and provide tips on posing to ensure the best results. After the session, you will receive a secure download link with your final images.

What you get

You will receive four images that will help you successfully master the challenges of professional media relations.

Portrait Shot: Neutral background, perfect for press releases and profiles. Landscape Shot: Ideal for author pages or media publications.

Ambient Shot: A more expressive, natural image for speaker or interview visuals. Transparent: A clean PNG, freestanding image of you (cutout, high resolution) for layout flexibility.
